J. W. HAYDEN.

A Hard Hit

One of the Baptist pastors of this city preached on Sunday last a very pithy and pungent sermon from the text, "Will a man rob G?" The question is answered in the affirmative—as regards some men, judging both by past history and present examples. This was illustrated by an anecdote, very felicitously told. We shall aim only to give the point. It was so sharp it could not well escape the listener. A man asked another, "Are you a believer in the Christian religion?" "O, certainly." "You are a member of some church, then, I suppose?" "Member of the church? No, indeed. Why should I be a member of a church? It is quite unnecessary. The dying thief wasn't a member of a church and he went to heaven." "But of course you've been baptized? You know the command—" "Be baptized?" "O, no. That's another needless ceremony. I'm as safe as the dying thief was, and he never was baptized." "But surely, since you will not join a church or be baptized, you do something in acknowledgment of your faith? You give of your means—you help the cause in some way?" "No, sir. I do nothing of the kind. The dying thief—" "Let me remark, my friend, before you go any further that you seem to be on pretty intimate terms with the dying thief. You seem to derive a great deal of consolation from his career; but mind you, there is one important difference between you and him. He was a dying thief—and you are a living one."—[Michigan Herald.]

Does shaving cause the beard to grow? This is a disputed question among those who should know the most about it. The impression is quite general that it does, but why it should is not clear by any means. The youth who wants a moustache shaves persistently and painfully, too, perhaps, in the fond hope that he is helping the dear things along. If there is any dependence to be placed in the results of the latest investigations into this matter, he might as well take the milkmaid's advice to soak his lip with cream and get a cat to lick it.

One of the grandest mankind sights is that when the devoted wife of an erring husband, regardless of what the jeering world may say, goes to the corner grocery with saloon attachment and leads him home by the ear.—[Kentucky State Journal.]

CURE FOR PILES.

Piles are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, as flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture, like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, after getting warm, is a very common attendant. Itching, bleeding and itching Piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the tumors, allaying the intense itching and affording a permanent cure. Price 50 cents. Address the Dr. Bosanko Medicine Co., Piquette, Ohio. Sold by McRoberts & Stagg.

Roller Skating Partitions

Lying on the right side, "My heart is at your feet"
Lying on the left side, "I have money in bank."
Standing on your nose, "I have no objection to a mother-in-law."
Jumping on your skates, "I'm afraid I can't trust you."
Lying on your back, "Assist me."
"One leg in the air means 'Catch me'"
Two legs in the air means "mashed."
"One skate in your mouth, 'Crushed again'"
Hitting the back of your head with your heel, "I am gone"
Suddenly placing your legs horizontally on the floor like the letter V indicates "I am paralyzed."
Punching your neighbor in the stomach with your left foot, "I am onto your little game."
A backward flip of the heel and sudden cohesion of the knees to the floor indicates "May I skate the next music with you?"—[Norristown Herald.]

THE THEORY OF VACCINATION.—Prof. Tyndall suggests that, just as the soil may be so effectually robbed of some essential ingredient by one abundant crop as to be incapable of producing another, so in the human system a parasitic disease may so completely exhaust the blood of some ingredient necessary to the growth and propagation of the parasite that the production of a second crop is fatal or considerable quantity may be impossible. It would thus appear that protective vaccination, or inoculation is simply the introduction into the blood of weakened and comparatively harmless disease germs to consume the material which might become food for similar germs in a more vigorous and dangerous condition.

"How was Indiana carried?"—cries an exchange that hasn't got over the election yet. We don't know how they got the rest of the State home, but the delegate we saw at three A. M. had his legs hanging out of the window, his hat hanging on his feet, no overcoat, and was singing "Iz z morz, ing by-hic bri light," and it took three men to hold him down. If the hacks held out we can see no reason why there should have been any difficulty in carrying the State.—[Hawkeye.]

Rev. Dr. Burchard said "just before the battle" that the democratic party was made up of "rum, Romanism and rebellion" and now comes Rev. Dr. Fulton, of New York, who says he unqualifiedly agrees with Dr. Burchard. Now, if Bilsam wants to re-entrenched Jerusalem he can drive a double team.—[Memphis Scimitar.]

FREE DISTRIBUTION.

"What causes the great rush at McRoberts & Stagg's Drug Store?" The free distribution of sample bottles of Dr. Bosanko's Cough and Lung Syrup, the most popular remedy for Coughs, Colds, Consumption and Bronchitis now on the market. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00.

THE EXTRAORDINARY YOUNG LADY.

Once in a Large City there dwelt a Maiden whose Mother being in Moderate Circumstances was put to great straits to educate her Daughter that she might occupy a Higher Walk in Life. She worked hard, and deprived herself of every comfort. And how was she rewarded? Strange to say, this Young Lady appreciated her Mother's Sacrifices, and did all she could to lighten her Labors. Upon returning from School she would devote her time to the Kitchen until the hour for her Music Lesson arrived, and then she would make the Piano Howl. She arose early and assisted with the Washing and Ironing, and when her Young Man took her to the Ice Cream Parlor at night she always slipped some Choice Cake into her Pocket for Ma. Finally she and the Young Man were married, and the Best Room in their House was devoted to the Old Lady, who never afterwards did a Lick of Work.

This is not a True Story. It is a Fable.—[Cincinnati Time Star.]

Nothing exasperates a woman who has been shading her eyes from the gas-light with her hand all evening as much as to find that after all she had left her best diamond ring on the wash stand.—[San Francisco Post.]

Falcon on Waterbury Watches.

I have been studying the inner consciousness of a Waterbury watch, trying to see how its subtle processes might be quickened into the semblance of a simulated life. I have learned what a "demonstration horrid wind" it takes to wind one up, and what a feeble effort at time keeping it makes when the winding begins over. It will not start itself, but must be used as a slung shot, or thrown up in the air and caught several times before it can be galvanized into organic action. If you have bought one, its silent face will stare you out of countenance with dumb protest at your folly; and however you may come into possession of it, you will soon see that for a brand of the first water it is entitled to the cake.—[Times.]

A ghastly belief was that the hair of the head grew indefinitely after death, it having been found in perfect masses where graves have been opened. Every specimen of this hair that has been carefully examined has proven to be vegetable hair, a form of fungus. The only well-marked changes that take place in the hair after death is the loss of lustre and color. It is one of the most indestructible parts of the body, being found in graves where there were no traces of either bones, teeth or nails.

W. P. WALTON.

THE old year whose expiring sighs are heard in the winds, has not been such a bad one that we would haste its demise. While it has brought us as a nation no great wealth, it has left no trace of dire calamities such as 1883 was remarkable for, but has given us many causes for thankfulness. A scarcity of money and business depression have marked the latter days, but on the whole those who have labored have been reasonably well remunerated and have no cause to complain. The INTERIOR JOURNAL is among the latter class and is proud to say that it is prospering, even as well as we could expect under the circumstances. The names on our long subscription list embrace the best people in this section, while the paper finds its way to nearly every State in the Union and many countries of the old world. We are indeed grateful to our friends for the continued evidences of their good will in the shape of a liberal patronage and wish each of them all the blessings that they could ask or expect during the coming year.

APPRECIATING to its fullest extent that silent contempt is often the most stinging rebuke, and having suffered so long in that direction from the Courier Journal, the editor of the Post tries the withering effect of his silence on his hated rival, The Times, but to little result. To a man up a tree it looks very much like he, having found that Waterson doesn't care a tinker's dam for anything, he may say, is trying to make a reputation as a brave and courageous man by abusing one who is more than his peer in intellect, in political, personal and social standing. But when two boxen young bucks buck up against him and show a disposition to fight, the gallant Colonel affects not to hear them and thus tries to maintain the reputation he thinks he is making by his constant tirade on a man who justly stands at the head of his profession in the United States. Col. Sears is a man of ability, but the course of his paper in opposing everything that the Courier Journal advocates, whether good or bad, is simply disgusting and unworthy of a man who aspires to the noble avocation of enlightening the world.

We regret to note that Judge J. A. Phillips, who has made the Monticello Signal a very entertaining paper, has retired from its editorship. Mr. G. W. Ringer is his successor and we wish him great success in his difficult task.

JUDGE FRENCH TIPTON is the boss story writer. His effort in the last Richmond Register entitles him to honorable distinction among that popular class.

Dr. THOMAS S. BELL, Louisville's oldest and most honored physician, was found dead in his room Sunday.

—Russell Grover and wife, of the "Begar Student" Company, and a chambermaid, were burned to death by fire in the Opera Hotel, at Racine, Wis., last evening.

—The Atlantic cable companies are at war. Rates are down to 40 cents a word for general business messages to Great Britain and France, 20 cents for plain press messages transmitted in regular order and 10 cents for "deferred" press business.

—Bradstreet's says that the number of bank failures in 1884 to Dec. 25 was: National, 11; State 22; savings 11; private (including stockholding establishments), 77. Total 121. In 1883, the total was 45. The number of failures in mercantile business was 12 per cent. greater than last year.

MT. SALEM, LINCOLN COUNTY.

—A wedding was expected in this section but the bridegroom failed to appear but why he failed is not yet known. (It is reported here that he was on a high and when sent for, said he would not give one good old drunk for a half dozen wives.)

—In passing through Middleburg on Christmas day, we were hailed by John W. Wilcher who escorted us to his hospitable mansion, where in company with G. L. Holmes, William Miller and family and ample justice was done to a Christmas turkey.

—On Saturday the case of Miller, Engineer vs. Green River Lumber Company comes up for trial. Able lawyers are expected to be in attendance. On the same day there will be a public installation of officers of the Masonic order, and McDowell Fogle is expected to deliver a lecture on that occasion.

—John Wells, a boy of 15 or 16 years of age, living near this place, on the 23d inst. took a horse from James Coulter's lot, went to Yosemite and appropriated a pair of boots in J. W. McDaniel's store, and two pairs of socks from Chas. Simpson's, returned, and the horse was found in James McKinney's lot the next morning. He was arrested, the property found, and we understand that he made confessions, and was sent to jail, but by what particular process of law he was incarcerated, we were unable to find out. From the boys actions in the case, his former history and general character, it is doubtful whether his mental calibre is sufficient to hold him responsible for these irregularities.

—Christmas was ushered in on a cold bleak day but every body seemed to enjoy it finely. The inevitable small boy with his fire crackers was on every hand. Santa Claus seems to have been as profuse as ever in gladdening the children's hearts with the usual amount of confectionery. In one case Santa Claus seems to have anticipated the day and presented to the wife of Richard McDaniel, on the 22d, a fine 12 lb. daughter. On Christmas eve night, the writer had the good fortune to fall in with an old friend, Moses Coffey, near Yosemite, where he was delightfully entertained with vocal music by six of the daughters of our host, with a violin accompaniment by himself. The rest of the daughters were absent. While the whole performance was excellent, that of the three youngest, Misses Lucy Jasper aged 3, Bertha aged 5 and Angie aged 9 years, was remarkable. The petite Lucy is a prodigy.

HUSONVILLE, LINCOLN COUNTY.

—The Christmas Tree at the Presbyterian church Wednesday night was a triumphant success. All denominations participated. The house was crammed to the gallery, the presents tasteful and abundant, the crowd well behaved and thoroughly pleased, the music fine, Billy Williams and Rex Reid as twin brothers of the Santa Claus family unrivalled, the Sunday school children, in whose behalf the entertainment was gotten up, jubilant. The veteran Superintendent, J. B. Green, was about as happy as he can be this side of home, and will press his favorite work with more energy in the future.

—On Monday evening the dwelling of Mr. B. N. Allen near Dunnville, in Casey county, took fire while the family were out and with all its contents, together with the outbuildings were consumed. The family, consisting of the aged couple and a daughter, were comfortably fixed and fully supplied in every particular. The insurance on their property had just expired and their son, J. W. Allen, of this place, was negotiating for a policy in another company. The sons are rallying to the aid of the old folks and they will soon be reinstated.

Washed Out Hair.

There is sort of pallid, chalky complexion which the novelists call a "washed out complexion." It is ghastly enough and no mistake. Washed-out, faded, colored or parti-colored hair is almost as repulsive and melancholy. Parker's Hair Balsam will restore your hair to its original color, whatever it was; brown, auburn or black. Why wear moss on your head, when you may easily have lively, shining hair.

MT. VERNON DEPARTMENT.

Managed by Jno. B. Fish.

—Christmas week passed off very pleasantly indeed.

—Miss Mattie Newcomb will give a cap year party to-night.

—There have been a number of social parties in town during the week just passed. Everybody has had a good time.

—The postoffice at Pine Hill has been abolished. The mail for that office is now delivered at this place.

—The court of investigation met last Friday and two of our citizens were jailed because they refused to tell from whom they had been buying liquor.

—The Christmas Tree at the church, for the benefit of the Sunday School, was a decided success. There was a present of some kind for all of the little folks who had been regular attendants.

—Rev. J. P. Dawson, of Danville, a Presbyterian Minister, is holding a few days' revival meeting at the church in this place. He has been having excellent audiences, being the first minister of that denomination that has visited this place for many years. His meetings will probably continue through the week.

—The following named young ladies have been visiting at this place during the past week: Misses Annie Higgins and Ella Simpson, Kirksville; Miss Maggie Smith, Paint Lick; Misses Lou Randall and Sallie Brown, London. Mrs. and Mrs. A. D. Smith, of Memphis, Tennessee, are visiting relatives at this place. Mr. B. F. Myers and family, of Williamsburg, are visiting in the county. J. D. Chandler, of Louisville, spent his Christmas with friends at this place. J. L. Whitehead, is back from Williamsburg for a few days. Mr. Vankirk, of Pennsylvania and Will Rappert, of Liberty, are visiting at this place. Miss Delta Heartick, has returned to Louisville after a visit of several weeks to relatives in town.

GARRARD COUNTY DEPARTMENT.

Lancaster.

—J. C. Hemphill made an assignment on the 23d inst., to George Walden. Liabilities $5,000; assets (estimated) $10,000. —W. Burnside's stock of drugs sold to Middleton & Luffald, who will continue the business here. The Bazaar given by the ladies of the Christian church realized a handsome sum.—Col. John K. Falkner, of Louisville, is at George Denny's.—Miss Mollie Burdett has returned from Parks ville.—Mr. William H. Arnold, who recently moved from here to Washington county died at the latter place last Friday. His remains were interred in the Lancaster cemetery Saturday.—A Christmas Tree at the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening was well attended. Many handsome and costly presents were distributed.—Elizabeth, an infant daughter of W. B. Mason, died Wednesday morning.

DANVILLE, BOYLE COUNTY.

—Mrs. Mattie J. McDowell sold Friday to Malcolm Weisger five shares stock in the Central National Bank this place at $185 per share.

—Four handsome new coaches passed here Sunday evening on the Cincinnati Southern marked Jacksonville, Tampa and Key West railroad. They were beauties.

—Mr. A. F. Munson, representing Munson & Oldham, of Zanesville, Ohio, is putting up a handsome iron fence of new design in front of the residence of Mrs. McAlister on Main street.

—The Carrie Stanley Vixen Comedy Company should be passed around the country as an unmitigated humbug. They "showed" here Saturday night and the exhibition was as nonsensical as, as well as Douglass Sherley's latest "booklet."

—The Boyle county Medical Society met at Gilcher's Hotel Friday evening and after the usual routine of business Dr. L. S. McMurtry was reelected President and Dr. Fayette Dunlap Secretary. The meeting closed with an elegant banquet.

—The Danville Literary Club met Friday night at the residence of Prof. J. B. Walton when "The Chinese treaty" was discussed by Messrs. E. H. Pierce, C. H. Bides, O. Bestly and Jas. L. Allen; other members present were Messrs J. W. Proctor, J. W. Yerkes, J. C. Fales, R. A. Johnston and J. A. Cheek.

—Mr. John Fogarty bought Friday from Wakefield & Farris 100 acres of land, this side of and on the right of the toll gate on the Lancaster pike, for $7,500. This is a part of the Thomas Barbee place, so well remembered by every one who ever lived in Danville. The pond in included in the purchase.

—Mr. Wm. Ayres and wife, of Louisville, are spending a few days with Mrs. Ayres' father, R. W. Givens, Esq. Miss Carrie Walters, of Lincoln, has been visiting friends here for the past week. Dr. R. W. Dunlap who has been quite ill for several days, is considerably better this (Monday) morning.

—Ben Row, colored, of Garrard, formerly of this place, sold and delivered to A. Hutchings, of this county, on Christmas day 8,570 lbs. of white burley tobacco raised on four acres of ground belonging to H. O. Sutton, of Garrard. This is an average of 2,114 lbs. per acre and considering the quality it is thought to be the finest yield yet reported in this part of the State.

—The annual election of officers of the Masonic Lodge, Saturday night resulted as follows: H. G. Sandifer, M.; C. N. Smith, S. W.; Morris Yeiser, J. W.; I. H. Thomas, Treas.; S. D. VanPelt, Secy.; A. J. Potts, J. D.; P. A. Marks, Tyler. The officers elect were immediately installed by Past Grand Master W. L. Thomas, of Lexington, who happened to be present.

—Friday night at a meeting of Major Robert Anderson Post G. A. R. the following officers were elected for the ensuing year. D. B. Goode, Commander; C. L.

Linney, Sr. Vice Commander; Wellington Harlan, Jr. Vice Commander; S. D. Van Pelt, Adjutant; B. T. Zimmerman, Q. M.; J. D. Runday, Surgeon; D. A. Murphy, Chaplain; W. C. Martin, O. D.; M. Sheppard, O. G.; J. H. Wilson, S. M.; John Shaw, O. M. S.

—Workmen were engaged Monday morning laying gas pipes in order that gas may illuminate the court house and enable Justice to see a little better. Justice has been blind long enough and it is but right that she should see, as the late Mr. Patch remarked "Something as well as others."

—Christmas night at Shelby City Leslie Sharp and Eliza Lay became involved in a row and Lay was cut in the back with a knife. The wounds were dressed and thought at the time not to be particularly dangerous. Lay, however, grew worse and died, it is thought, of internal hemorrhage. Sharp is under arrest.

—The little dead maple tree in the south east corner of the court house yard was converted into a Christmas tree and strung with presents for the good little boys Christmas morning. Judge Young, Logan McKee, town attorney, W. K. Hobbs, marshal "Willie" Huett and Henry Price, "Detectors," James Taylor, constable, and perhaps others, were remembered.

—Miss Mary Mills, daughter of Mr. E. S. Mills, of this place, and Mr. Andrew Hoover, of Sonoma, Ky., were married Thursday morning at the residence of the bride's father. That night Mr. Miller Lee and Miss Mollie A. Johnson were married at the First Presbyterian church, Rev. E. H. Pierce officiating in the first instance and Rev. J. L. Allen in the second.

—A fire in one of the upper rooms of of the jailer's residence broke out Friday it is thought on account of a coat falling from the grate. The carpet, a part of the floor, a wardrobe and some clothing were destroyed. The loss to Mr. Shumate is about $75. The residence of Wm. H. King, who lives a little north of Lexington street, also caught fire the same day, but was extinguished before much damage was done.

—Mr. Eugene Lee has returned from an absence of several weeks in Texas. Mr. Benjamin Bolling is quite ill at his home on Walnut street. Mr. William H. Scruggs, the gentlemanly representative of Clay, Stall & Co., Lexington, was here among old friends Sunday and Monday. Miss Mai Merrill is visiting relatives in Nashville. Mr. George Lee returned to his home in Taylor county Saturday, his little niece, Hortense and Virginia Lee, accompanying him. Mr. G. B. Woodcock and Miss Nannie Jett were married Tuesday evening at the bride's residence in this county by Rev. J. L. Allen. Mr. and Mrs. Woodcock left at once for New Orleans and other points in the South.

marry a laundress, do your courting in the laundry; but if you want a wife, marry the girl you love. Be honest with the world, don't sail under false colors. Don't repine over your poverty; it is good for you. We get most of our Presidents from Illinois; tanyards and farms and Ohio townships. Don't envy any great man my boy. The great man, with his weight of years, and care, envie you every time he passes you by. And if you can't be a leader, double leaded, a column long, on the second page, you can be something just as useful. You can be a little paying four line solid nonpareil "ad." on the inside, down under a picture of Lydia Pinkham, and that will help the make up and fill its place in the paper. Be anything in the world, my boy, that is alive and useful. Be anything but a "dead ad."—[Burdett's Boston Lecture.

A YEAR'S SHOEMAKING.—As the result of one year's manufacturing, our people required for 1880, 6,831,761 sides of sole-leather, 21,137,66 sides and skins of upper-leather, besides leather sold by weight to the amount of 32,900,614 pounds. This supply was sufficient to make 12, 478,111 pairs of boots and shoes, or a little more than two pairs each for every man, woman and child in the United States. One such place as Lynn would perhaps require for weekly supply the slaughter of four thousand cattle, ten thousand goats, fifteen thousand sheep, the manufacture of fifty thousand yards of cotton cloth, nearly a ton of silk and thread of every kind, two or three tons of nails and tacks, besides general supplies of every description which enter into the composition of shoes.—[Harper's Magazine.

A wild story comes from Springfield, Mass., to the effect that a doctor named Wright, who died two years ago, had left a confession which has just come to light, that he and a party of friends, medical students, removed the body of a Miss Newman from the grave shortly after her burial at Egmont, and took it to Albany and began dissection; that life was found not to be extinct, and the woman was restored to life but without her reason. She has since been cared for by the uncle of one of the students, her reason having been recovered. She married and has lived in New York for several years while her friends thought her dead.

John Martin decided to starve himself to death at Maysville, O., but his neighbors took an opposing view of his undertaking and appointed a committee to hold him, pry open his mouth, and pour gruel down his throat. After this had been done daily for a week he promised to eat normally.

"Do you want some butter on your bread?" asked Johnny's step mother in a cooling tone of voice, there being company at the table. "Just suit yourself," replied the self sacrificing little fellow, "but if you spread it as thin as you usually do I won't get none of the taste in my mouth, now, I like it best thin if it is like the butter we have when there is no company here."
